Specifically, they will work to reduce disparate environmental burdens, remove barriers to participation and decision-making, and increase access to benefits. Further, the guidance indicates USACE will be using investments as the metric to measure benefits and reiterated that 40% of investments in climate and critical clean water and waste infrastructure must benefit disadvantaged communities.
- FY23 Proposed Budget—Highlights Justice40 as a priority. Funding will be used to increase outreach and access to USACE information, resources, and technical assistance programs, and update policies and guidance to ensure USACE programs and projects do not result in disproportionate harm to DACs.
